ABRAHAM AND STRAUS

BROOKLYN.

A Most Unusual Exploit in Women's Tailored Suits.

Values, $22 to $42—price, $17.50.

A hundred and twenty-five new Suits for the Autumn: fresh, handsome and stylish. They were made by one of the best commercial tailors in the country to the order of a large retail house. Before delivery, before all the Suits were even completed, for reasons best known to themselves, the makers canceled their contract. Now all the Suits have come to us far below the regular prices of the makers and they are to make wonderful interest here to-morrow.

There is nothing brighter, newer, handsomer, nothing fresher in style or more perfectly tailored than these Suits. Many of them are made with the new blouse front that is the season's especial favorite. Others are vest front Etons, tight fitting, and single and double breasted tight fitting coats. Skirts are the new seven gore flare, tight fitting over the hips. All the jackets are lined with taffeta silk and most of the skirts also, although probably 25 are percale lined. Cloths are abelines, homspuns, chevrons and coverts in navy blue, Oxford, brown, tan and black. Regular prices for them would be $22.00 to $42.00, and a large proportion are the higher priced Suits. Choose to-morrow for $17.50 Each.

Second floor, front.

Black Taffeta Silks

Fine and Rich and Under Cost to Make.

Better even than last week's great offering.

The silk worms would go on strike if they knew their choicest work was to be sold for such little prices. So would the manufacturer, but he didn't know when he made this Silk. It is all there is in this country of three first rate grades—two of them the sort of Silks that last a lifetime. Strong and brilliant, with the rich luster for which the best of imported Silks are noted, even 7,200 yards—and that's a big gathering—will go in a jiffy at prices under the cost of manufacture. Can't tell you how it came about, but the Silks will speak for themselves about the value. Thus:

1,800 yards of 22 inch Black Taffeta, regularly 59c., at 37c. a yard
2,100 yards of 27 inch Black Taffeta (wear guaranteed), regularly $1.00, at 69c. a yard
3,300 yards of 27 inch Black Taffeta (wear guaranteed), regularly $1.25, at 85c. a yard

Main floor, New Building.

The Season's Lowest Price for All Wool Homespun.

Yesterday, 69c. a yard—to-morrow, 49c.

And even the 69c. price was the lowest for which such Homespuns could be found anywhere. They are 50 inches wide, absolutely all wool and a firm, well made and serviceable fabric. Colors are Oxford and the leading gray mixtures. To-morrow for everyone, 49c. a yard.

A Rare Assembly of Double-faced Suitings.

Quite the most unusual gathering we know about. 5-inch Venetians and other heavy weight, double-faced suitings are here in wide variety and moderately priced. Colors are the popular ones, Oxford, navy blue, gray, brown and castor, with handsome plaid backs, many of the best of them not to be found elsewhere. Prices are: $1.95 and $2.50 a yard

Main floor, New Building.

Black French Broadcloths.

Sponged and Shrank and Low Priced.

No question about the popularity of the Broadcloth for this season's finest uses—even more than in previous years. The question that makes many women hesitate when they see its soft, rich luster is the uncertainty about the loss of that luster in the sponging and shrinking. Some of it is bound to go—just how much they would like to know.

They ought to know, we thought, as we sponged and shrunk the Broadcloths in the piece. They are here now that way, all ready for the needle and very moderate priced, too, at $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $2.75, $3.00, $3.25, $3.45, and $3.95 a yard.

This special among the Broadcloths, 1,100 yards of 50 inch French Broadcloth of superior quality and finish, sponged and shrunk, at $1.50 a yard

Main floor, rear.

Pillows and Pillow Tops

Second floor, rear.

New Suits and Skirts

For Young Women—Underpriced.

Smartness and new style characterize these fresh garments—perfect workmanship, too. These and the low pricing make decided interest in the Misses' Store now.

The Suits are of a fine Venetian cloth, jacket double-breasted, with velvet collar and lined entirely with taffeta silk. Skirt the newly popular seven-gore style with flare, percale lined and velvet bound.

Prices are 14 and 16 years, colors, black, castor and navy blue and the price low at $12.50

Peasants in skirts of good double-faced material, with pretty plaid backs, well made and perfectly fitting. Lengths are 35 to 38 inches and the price low at $4.98

Curtains and Oriental Stuffs.

A Great Assembly, All Little Priced.

All the Orient seems gathered in the Upholstery Store—a feast of color among the stults for couches and cozy corners that add perhaps more than any other one feature to the furnishing of a room. But the completeness of the gathering is not all that makes it notable. Prices are rarely low—lowest for which such stuffs have ever been obtainable. There is double fascination for the tasteful householder here now.

And fashion and good sense say that these Skirts are to be worn to even greater extent during the season that is to come. The new styles have been gathering here in widest and best variety. There is perfect choice now, yet not a Skirt may be chosen that is not underpriced for its value. This list to-day:

Some Early Millinery Trimmings

Priced Much Below the Usual.

These are the pretty and approved things for the finishing of the Autumn hat—feathers largely, though rose sprays and foliage will be used to a considerable extent also. Prices for them are unusually low, even for the Millinery Store, where low prices are the regular thing. Thus:

Black Braids, extra fine, 25c.

Black Hackle Plumes, used largely for trimming the gray outing hats; special value at 45c.

Feather Braids, Amazon shape, extra long, in gray, brown and beige, 75c.

Laces at Half Prices.

SECRETARY ANGLE RESIGNS.

John C. Birdseye Appointed Secretary of the State Civil Service Commission.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.—Charles B. Angle of Saratoga, recently resigned as Secretary of the State Civil Service Commission, and Assistant Secretary John C. Birdseye of Onondaga has been promoted to that office, the salary of which is $2,000. The assistant secretary's salary is $1,200. He has not yet been filled by the commission. Mr. Angle has been Secretary of the commission since its organization in 1883. He has been acting for two years, and ill-health compelled his resignation.

Owing to many decisions of the courts adversely affecting provisions of the Civil Service law, passed last year, the State Commission has been advised to recommend that the rules and regulations of municipal civil service commissions be amended to give such decisions effect. The principal changes provide for the certification of three names instead of one from the eligible list to the appointing authority and provide that eligible lists shall be made up according to the class and conditions to be filled instead of being classified by departments. The civil service commission in the cities of Cohoes, Gloversville, Corning and New Rochelle failed to amend the respective rules as amended by the State commission, so the latter has proposed such amendments to take effect in those cities.

BURGlar STOLE HER TIGHTS

With a Property Loan and a Few Dancing Slippers Her Knight.

George Cuddy of 224 East Forty-second street was held in the Yorkville police court yesterday for trial on the charge of being implicated in a burglary committed on April 21 last at West-cott's store in Saratoga, when the theatrical wardrobe of Miss Nellie Cuddy, who played with Johnstone Bonsett in the Peoria Dramatic troupe, was stolen. The costumes taken were estimated by the owner to be worth $213.

Cuddy, the police say, was accompanied by another man when the burglary was committed. They were chased away when they tried the first attempt, and a vicious dog was tied near the door by which they had entered, but they managed somehow to keep the dog quiet and ran to a warehouse later. A property loan and several pairs of tights and dancing slippers were among the articles stolen. Cuddy was caught near the Grand Central station on Friday evening.

A LITTLE FOR BAPTIST TABERNACLE.

$1-2 Years' Income and No More of the Rockefeller $50,000 Fund.

The suit of the Tabernacle Baptist Church against the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, begun in 1896, and the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church's income of $50,000 in Northern Pacific bonds, put in suit with the defendant by John D. Rockefeller, was decided by Justice Russell of the Supreme Court yesterday so that both sides claim a victory.

On Dec. 1, 1897, Mr. Rockefeller put $50,000 in value of the consolidated mortgage bonds of the Northern Pacific Railway Company in charge of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church under a written agreement. The income was to be paid for ten years to the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Second Avenue, with the understanding that the income was to be used for the benefit of the church. The Fifth Avenue Baptist Church had the right to stop payment of the income if it found that the beneficiary was not using the money as contemplated by Mr. Rockefeller. Also, the income of the Tabernacle Baptist Church was to be used for the benefit of the church. The Fifth Avenue Baptist Association terminated, which happened on Oct. 11, 1898. At the close

OF THE FIRST OR SECOND TEN-YEAR TERM THE FUND WAS TO BELONG TO THE DEFENDANT FOR ITS MISSION WORK.

The income was paid to the Tabernacle Baptist Church up to May 31, 1898, when the railway company defaulted on its bonds. When the company was reorganized in 1897 new securities were exchanged for the old and payments were made in lieu of interest in arrears. Dr. Potter was ejected from the Tabernacle Baptist Church in December, 1896, and at the same time the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church decided that no more income of the fund should go to that church, because it was not in connection to expend the money for mission work as contemplated by Mr. Rockefeller. Dr. Potter got possession of the fund again in December, 1897, and held the fund until October, 1899. Justice Russell says that the defendant had the right to say when the income to the Tabernacle Baptist Church should cease and the Court will not disturb its decision provided there was some reason for its action. The judge says: "The Court must leave the two or three who are gathered together in his name to the judgment and consideration of those who act from a higher standard than that from which the eye of the law views secular affairs. The judge says that in the condition of affairs in which the Tabernacle Baptist Church was placed in December, 1896, when it was ousted from its edifice, the defendant might well find reason to decide that it should have no more income from the fund. The Court says the plaintiff may have such part of the arrears of income received from the railway company as covers the period from May 31, 1898, to Dec. 1, 1899, the attorneys to agree on the sum or leave the Court to do its own computing."

MRS. JAMES E. MARCH BURIED.

More Than 100 Carriages in the Funeral Procession of the Port Warden's Wife.

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. James E. March, wife of the Port Warden and Republican leader of the Sixth Assembly district, were held yesterday in St. Patrick's Church in Mott street. An immense crowd congregated near the church home as 37 Marion street before the funeral procession started, and several policemen were required to keep a passage clear for the mourners. More than 100 carriages followed the hearse, which was drawn by six black horses. When the church was reached there was another jam. Mrs. March was a communicant of St. Patrick's and was greatly interested in charitable work in the parish. This made her death a loss to the church. The Rev. John Courtney, pastor of the church, said the requiem mass and he was assisted by the Rev. James Quinn and the Rev. John O'Brien. After the church service the funeral proceeded to Calvary Cemetery.

Polished and business friends of Port Warden March attended the funeral in large numbers, among them being Gen. Francis A. Biddle, Mr. McInerney, Charles A. H. McInerney, Sullivan and Daniel Shaw. The Rev. James Quinn, master Van Cott, ex-congressman, Timothy J. Campbell, Cornelius Sullivan, W. F. Hart, Ernest Steiger, K. E. Taylor, Richard Cohen and John McNulty.
